Description

Exciting Opportunity for a Consultant Project Manager - Lead a Landmark Landscape Project on Dartmoor. The Dartmoor Land Use Management Group (DLUMG) is an independently chaired advisory body fostering collaboration and coordinated action across Dartmoor's unique landscape. It brings together key stakeholders to drive positive change in land management practices. We are seeking a skilled and proactive Consultant Project Manager to lead the delivery of an ambitious programme focused on enhancing nature, tackling climate challenges, and securing a wide range of public benefits - all within a resilient and sustainable farmed landscape. This programme stems from the 2024 'Fursdon Report' into SSSI and grazing on Dartmoor, which set out 25 key recommendations for the DLUMG. Your role will be to manage the day-to-day operations of the group and oversee the delivery of its strategic programme of work. Working closely with Phil Stocker, Chair of the DLUMG, you will play a central role in coordinating diverse partners, driving forward delivery, and helping shape the future of Dartmoor's land use and environmental stewardship.
