Section VI. Complementary information

VI.3) Additional information

This is a Provider Selection Regime (PSR) intention to award notice. The awarding of this contract is subject to the Health Care Services (Provider Selection Regime) Regulations 2023. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 do not apply to this award. The publication of this notice marks the start of the standstill period. Representations by providers must be made to decision makers by 27th June 2025. This contract has not yet formally been awarded; this notice serves as an intention to award under the PSR. Written representations should be sent to procurementpeople-mailbox@devon.gov.uk

Award decisions have been recommended by Devon County Council's Children's Strategic Commissioning team, with key decision makers being:

Senior Commissioning Manager of Children's Services (DCC), Assistant Commissioner of Children and Young People and Non-Custodial Services (NHS England), and Senior Commissioning Manager of Children and Young People and Non-Custodial Services (NHS England).

No conflicts of interest were declared.

The rationale for the relative importance of the key criteria, and the rationale for choosing the provider with reference to the key criteria is explained below:

Quality and Innovation, 35% - The Provider has worked with the young people and staff at Atkinson since 2019 and in this time they have delivered a high quality service. During this time they have offered development opportunities around Just Right State to enable staff to better understand themselves to support how they work with young people to avoid escalation of situations and support their own self-regulation. They have also pioneered the development of a regulatory garden within the grounds of the home to enable young people and staff to use this space in order to manage their own state of being to enable them to better engage with life and learning at the home.

Value, Pass/Fail - The provider accepted the available fixed budget.

Integration, Collaboration and Service Sustainability, 25% - The provider works with staff and young people in the home which demonstrates a strong collaborative and integrated approach. It is well understood within the health & wellbeing team that the provider supports staff as well as young people to have the tools to self-regulate which demonstrates a strong commitment to integration and collaboration. The impact of this is to be able to better support the young people in the home and help the work to be sustainable for the professionals working in this home. In 2024/25 they have also been joint working with the homes clinical psychology students and undertake supervision with the residential support workers.

Improving Access, Reducing Health Inequalities, and Facilitating Choice, 30% - This provider improves access to health services by supporting professionals to work with young people differently, in a way that is sensitive to their sensory needs. This provider also supports young people to better understand their needs so that they can overcome barriers to getting the help that they need. They have supported young people to collaborate in their own care planning and in some cases have empowered young people to be a lead in this process.

Social Value, 10% - All of the above supports young people to interact more positively with the world around them and to identify positive choices in their lives. This will have a significant impact on their ability to interact with health services leading to better health for them and their communities. As stated by Public Health England, "There is clear evidence that good work improves health and wellbeing across people's lives and protects against social exclusion. Conversely, unemployment is bad for health and wellbeing, as it is associated with an increased risk of mortality and morbidity." Therefore by improving access to health services and understanding one's own needs for wellbeing, these young people are more likely to be able to be in good health, for longer, and be more productive and more likely to be employed.
