II.2.4) Description of the procurement

National Highways' approach for dealing with conflicts of interests on this procurement will be set out in the procurement documents and will reflect public sector best practice. Part of this approach will be to require bidders to sign "Managing Conflicts Agreement" at the Selection Questionnaire stage. This Agreement shall require potential bidders to proactively identify and agree with the Authority any individuals within their organisation who are actually or potentially conflicted or considered to have had access to information which gives them an unfair advantage which cannot be mitigated or neutralised by any other reasonable measures. If any such individuals are identified the bidders shall be required to construct an information barrier or "ethical wall" internally to remove those individuals from their bid team and protect the integrity of the process.

A draft copy of the "Managing Conflicts Agreement" has been provided for reference only and is available as an attachment on the associated Contracts Finder notice at <https://www.contractsfinder.service.gov.uk/Notice/12a360ff-e611-4c3f-b04f-9c0564c121f6>. Suppliers may express interest by completing a Microsoft Form at <https://forms.office.com/e/cq3arGGFeP>.

Registration of interest is not necessary and potential suppliers may choose to respond directly after the Contract Notice/Opportunity Notice is published.

Potential tenderers who have not yet registered for an account on National Highways eSourcing Portal may do so at the following link <https://nationalhighways.ukp.app.jaggaer.com/>

Note that we ask suppliers to register one account per organisation. The supplier can designate a super user for the account who will then authorise sub-accounts for any other of their staff members who require access.

If you have previously had a contract or bid for work with National Highways your company is likely to have an account already on the system. Please contact the eSourcing helpdesk via the link above if you are unable to access your account.
