Twenty years ago, Incommunities Group was formed as Bradford Community Housing Trust (BCHT), providing housing management services for the stock transferred from Bradford Metropolitan District Council's ownership, following a ballot of residents. Combined Incommunities Group has 22,300 rented and leaseholder properties within their stock across North, West and South Yorkshire. Incommunities is the biggest social landlord in the Bradford District and the Huddersfield-based Sadeh Lok is a traditional BME Housing Association formed in 1988. They laid strong foundations in 2003 and over the last 20 years, the organisation has undergone significant change, investing, modernising and building new homes. Incommunities have become a multi-award-winning business recognised locally, regionally and nationally, successfully developing and rebranding the business. Its partnership with Sadeh Lok in April 2015 has further grown the business and strengthened its strategic operations.
