Section IV. Procedure

IV.1) Description

IV.1.1) Form of procedure

Award of a contract without prior publication of a call for competition in the cases listed below

- The procurement falls outside the scope of application of the regulations

Explanation:

The Council are extending the contract in reliance on the exception set out in Regulation 72(1)(e) of the Public Contract Regulations 2015. The Council does not consider the extension to be substantial in accordance with Regulation 72(8) for the reasons set out below.

The extension does not render the contract materially different in character from the one initially procured, as the same services will continue to be provided.

The extension does not introduce conditions which would have the effects set out in Regulation 72(8)(b)(i) to (iii) regarding other candidates or participants either.

The services to be delivered subject to the contract extension will continue to be predominantly day and work opportunities services for individuals with learning disabilities and autism support needs as per the current service delivery. Any modifications made to the existing contract will be incorporated for the purposes of service improvement, not a fundamental change to the service. This will, therefore, not render the contract materially different in character from the original and will not considerably change the scope of the contract.

The economic balance of the contract would remain unchanged, and the scope of the contract has not extended considerably.

Any economic changes will not change the economic balance of the contract in favour of the contractor in a manner which was not provided for in the initial contract and will be based on agreed increases in price. Contract governance arrangements will incorporate regular finance reviews to ensure that the commissioned services both represent and demonstrate value for money.

For contracts covered as part of the Light-Touch regime, the local authority's Contract Procedure Rules permit an exception to be sought where;

The performance of the existing contractor in delivering the required services under the existing contract has been monitored and assessed as satisfactory or better; (CPR 2.10.2 (vii)) and

The quality of the required services as required by the existing contractor under the existing contract has been assessed as satisfactory or better; (CPR 2.10.2 (viii))

Section VI. Complementary information

VI.3) Additional information

The extension will permit the continuation of the successful collaborative working relationship with the incumbent provider. This will facilitate and preserve service continuity for the substantial number of existing individuals that are supported by the services and allow them to achieve their identified outcomes. The current provider has to date been successful in demonstrating innovation throughout their service delivery and has successfully incorporated new service elements into their overall service portfolio since the inception of the contract.

Extending the contract will allow for this added value to continue as part of the service moving forwards. Ensuring service continuity will be particularly important with respect to maximising the potential of new impending service developments.

Also as detailed in the notice this contract is being modified without a tender process being undertaken. In order to publish this notice a figure of 1 was put against the number of tenders received section as a figure of "0" was not accepted by the sell2wales website.
