II.1.4) Short description

The Department for Transport (the Authority) is looking for suppliers to deliver timely social research, monitoring, evaluation, and economic analysis on behalf of the Local and Regional Transport Analysis (LRTA) and Roads Economics, Modelling and Evaluation (REME) divisions.

The contract will be structured as a Framework agreement, once the Framework is in place individual commissions will be allocated to Suppliers as and when required. Up to three Suppliers will be appointed as part of this Framework Agreement.

Suppliers will need to have technical expertise in a range of analytical methods including but not limited to primary qualitative and quantitative research, secondary data analysis, evidence reviews, process, impact and value for money evaluation, and economic analysis – such as economic literature reviews, cost-benefit analysis, analysis for Impact Assessments and modelling. They will also need to have or be able to access subject matter expertise on transport-related matters throughout the lifetime of the contract (e.g., through sub-contracting arrangements).

Outputs from this Framework and subsequent call-offs will be used to inform policy and operational decisions and to build the evidence base on a range of transport policy areas supported by the two divisions.

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The overall aim of the contract is to deliver timely social research, monitoring, evaluation, and economic analysis to support the Authority's LRTA and REME divisions.

To provide sufficient capacity and resilience to meet LRTA and REME's analytical needs. The Authority intends to appoint up to three suppliers to deliver this contract. We are looking to develop strong, partnership working with our suppliers that will enable us to quickly scope and commission high quality, fit-for-purpose research and analysis.

Successful suppliers shall be skilled in a range of analytical methods and experienced in delivering this in a government or policy making context. This includes design and delivery of:

Rapid evidence reviews / literature reviews / evidence synthesis including of economics literature/reports

Qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods primary research projects

Secondary analysis of existing datasets, including cleaning, use of appropriate/statistical techniques, and quality assurance.

Advanced quantitative data analysis projects

Monitoring & evaluation studies

Meta-analysis and meta-evaluation

Economic modelling and forecasting

Cost benefit analysis to support business cases, Impact Assessments and De-Minimis Assessments

Economic evaluation to support future funding requests, to provide lessons learnt on appraisal work and to form evidence as part of the Post Implementation Review (PIR)

Peer review and quality assurance of analytical plans and outputs

It is likely that multiple projects will be delivered through the contract at one time. This means suppliers will need to have the capacity to deliver more than one project at a time, including more resource intensive primary research projects.

The maximum budget for the contract is for approximately £1,250,000 p/a excluding VAT, with a lifetime value of up to £5,000,000. Bids are welcome from individual suppliers (including any key Sub-Contractors that will support you in the delivery of the framework) and consortia who can demonstrate that they are able to meet the full set of requirements. Suppliers must also be willing and able to bring in new partners on board during the lifetime of the contract should additional capacity, skills or expertise be required to be able to meet project-specific requirements.

Indicative dates:

Service to go live: February 2023 onwards.

Estimated contract duration: 4 years.

Publish date of ITT: 8th December 2022, with a closing date of 25th January 2023.
