Each bidder must detail any community and skills initiatives they currently participate in and consider how these can be tailored to the EISH project, benefiting ETZ's local community. Activities to consider include, but are not limited to, engaging with primary or secondary schools, hosting foundation or modern apprentices, offering internship, work placement or shadowing opportunities, joining Developing the Young Workforce's Young Persons Guarantee, offering interview guarantees, running programmes to promote return to work for disadvantages groups, and utilising local supply chain companies and contractors.

In particular, bidders are asked to outline what internships, work placements, and/or foundation apprenticeships they will offer to pupils at the neighbouring secondary school, Lochside Academy. Details should be across a range of construction, business, and administrative functions, and include anticipated number of places offered.
