II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The provider NHS Dorset are procuring will lead the workforce workstream of the Oral

Health Programme focusing primarily on securing, developing, and training the oral health workforce, with a particular emphasis on addressing health inequalities.

Their contribution will be essential to ensuring a capable, sustainable, and well-trained workforce that can deliver high-quality and equitable care within NHS Dorset Oral Health services.

The provider will deliver a workforce development service that focuses on securing, training, and developing the oral health (OH) workforce in Dorset, as part of the Oral Health Institute.

This service will ensure the availability of a well-trained, competent workforce capable of addressing the needs of the Dorset population while contributing to the broader oral health objectives of improving access, prevention, and reducing health inequalities.

The service will include the development of pre- and post-registration training, continuing professional development (CPD), and collaborative programmes aimed at healthcare professionals within the oral health sector.

The Key Service Aims are:

- Develop and Expand the Oral Health Workforce
- Optimise Workforce Skills and Capabilities
- Sustain and Secure Future Workforce Stability
- Contribute to Programme Aims Through Workforce Development

Workforce Worksteam Objectives:

- In-depth Understanding of Workforce Capacity and Capability
- Optimisation of Workforce to Full Scope of Practice
- Long-Term Workforce Stability
- Upskilling of Non-Oral Health Workforce
- Establishment of an Oral Health Institute

Contribution to Broader Programme Objectives:

While the provider will be responsible for achieving the workforce-related objectives, their work will be interdependent with the broader programme goals of:

- Access: A more capable and adequately staffed workforce to improve equitable access to NHS oral health services.
- Prevention: An upskilled workforce, including non-oral health professionals, to enhance the delivery of oral health education and preventive care.
- Data: Workforce intelligence developed by the provider, to contribute to increased understanding of the oral health landscape, supporting targeted interventions and data-driven decision-making for the programme.

In summary, the provider must play a critical role in ensuring that a skilled and sustainable workforce is in place, directly supporting the success of the overall Oral Health Programme.

Key Deliverables

The Provider will be responsible for delivering the below:

- Recruitment and management of Oral Health Fellows
- Recruitment and management of a collaborative advisory group
- Development and consensus on a sustainable model for the OHI
- Creation of a workforce plan and education strategy
- Plan Phase 2 of the OHI development project
