Through this lot we will procure surveys and polling, of the population of England and of specific stakeholder groups. This may be to supplement other qualitative data.

All potential suppliers applying to be on Lot 10 must be able to:

- Undertake surveys of a national representation of the population of England, including in relation to age, gender, ethnicity, region and disability and long-term condition as standard.
- Include a boost sample in surveys and polls from one or more specified groups to allow comparison between that group and others.
- Undertake feasibility checks for polls on specific topics, e.g., incidence of elective surgery being cancelled in last six months.
- Have systems and processes for robust quality checks to be in place when conducting polls and surveys.

Suppliers must also be able to deliver at least one of the following:

- Deliver Computer Assisted Telephone Interviewing (CATI) on top of gathering online responses. If this is done via a subcontractor, details of how this would work would need to be provided.
- Undertake quantitative research with at least one hard-to-reach group, including children and young people, ethnic minorities, people on lower incomes and others who are more likely to receive poor care.
- Undertake business or stakeholder survey research with relevant audiences to CQC e.g. health and social care, stakeholders, parliamentarians or professionals.
