Scope

Description

The UK Ministry of Defence (MOD) requires access to Ballistic Testing Services to support new to service projects and ensure through life support of Personal Armour provided to its Armed Forces Personnel.

The MOD requires laboratories to be UKAS accredited to ISO 17025, including NATO AEP 2920.

The MOD intends to run a competition to award a contract for Ballistic Testing Services. The contract will have a headroom of £10m (Inc VAT) and will be for 5 years with 3 x 1 optional years. Testing will be carried out throughout the length of the contract as and when it is required.

The MOD are proposing that for the purposes of Ballistic Testing Services the contractor will need to have a UK located facility.

Please note that the publication date of the UK 4 Tender Notice and Contract start date are an estimate and is still subject to change.

Engagement process description

As part of the market engagement for this competition, the DCC Survivability Team plan to visit the facilities in the UK that register interest. The type of information the team will be interested in and would like to understand further as part of these visits is likely to include the below:

- Tour of the site, including a procedural walkthrough (no requirement for actual testing, but a step-by-step understanding of procedures based on facility capabilities).
- Range of testing services available (both in house and external)
- Standards, and certifications, traceability and licences
- Equipment (testing, measuring, calibrating etc)
- Environmental conditions and facilities
- Storage Facilities
- How the facility measures uncertainty and how expanded uncertainty is calculated and assured.
- Disposal procedures
- An understanding of facility personnel SQEP
- An understanding of past testing experiences

- Safe working procedures and practices

Please note, the release of this UK 2 Preliminary Market engagement Notice is not the formal start to the competition process. You will have an opportunity to participate in the Tender process when it formally starts with the release of the UK 4 Tender Notice, which will be advertised via the Defence Sourcing Portal and Find a Tender Service via the Central Digital Platform in the future. At this stage suppliers are only able to register interest for the upcoming market engagement.
