Description

Objectives We are seeking access to a high-quality survey on neurodiversity in the farming sector, a comms partnership with the most widely read weekly Farming Magazine and the opportunity to set out how Defra is working to improve the accessibility of its service to farmers. Farmers Weekly are running a campaign on neurodiversity and Defra funding will allow us to join that campaign and adapt it to better support Defra objectives. Only they are focussing on this issue and only they have access to the breadth of audience we will be able to access. Through the campaign Farmers Weekly have commissioned a robust statistical survey into neurodiversity in the farming sector. By joining as Partners, we are able to access the results of that and use it to inform our policy and service development. We have a longstanding need for this information and have not been able to implement a Defra led way to achieve this. Joining as partners is a ve
