Description

The requirement is for the development and in service support of Application Development & Support (ADAS). This will include software development and support for the following:

- Development and continued availability of an application store.
- Systems and platforms may include Android, Windows, Linux and AWS. Software (applications) will be required to be developed for use on a variety of networks and with varying levels of data classification. Applications may be standalone, networked using secure closed systems or open cloud based and may be required to interface with 3rd party hardware e.g. sensors for data ingest, processing and transfer. These apps will need to be integrated onto the application store.
- Integration of commercial off the shelf (COTS) applications onto the application store.

The suppliers will be required to support DE&S with rapid, insightful, and cost-effective decisions to ensure the sustainment of the UK defence operations.

The number of bespoke apps is subject to change but is assumed to be around ~20 over the life of the contract. The applications are to be used by a small, CBRN focused Military group only.

The classification of application development is up to and including OFFICIAL-SENSITIVE. However, some apps may require libraries up to an including SECRET UK EYES ONLY meaning that the supplier will be required to hold Facility Security Clearance before contract award.

The in-service support shall include, but not limited to maintaining availability of the applications and the application store.

Competitive flexible procedure description

The Application Development and Support contract is being procured through the Competitive Flexible Procedure in accordance with the Procurement Act 2023 ('The Act').

The following steps will be used to decide which supplier progress to Invitation to Tender;

- Project Specific Questionnaire (PSQ) - The top 6 tenderers who are fully compliant and have the received highest scores in the Technical Envelope shall be invited to take part in the Invitation to Tender (ITT).

Invitation to Tender (ITT), the evaluation shall include various stages in order to arrive at contract award;

- Bidder's conference - Shortly after the ITT is issued, the tenderers will be invited to a Bidder's Conference to learn more about the Authorities requirements and background to the ITT.
- Paper based evaluation of the ITT - The evaluation will assess tenderers based on Value for Money (VFM) using the VFM Weighted index. The weighting of the evaluation will be split 60% technical and 40% price. The top three scoring tenderers will progress to the presentation stage.
- Presentation stage - The three remaining tenderers will present to the Authority in order to bring to life specific sections of their software development proposal response, which they have detailed in their written ITT response.
- Partial second ITT evaluation - The sections of the ITT which are covered in the presentation will be re-evaluated by the Authority following the suppliers' presentations.; scores can increase, decrease or remain the same.
- Contract award - The tenderer offering the best Value for Money (VFM) using the VFM Weighted index will be awarded the contract. The weighting will remain 60% technical and 40% price.

Full information on how the procurement procedure including evaluation criteria, strategy and stages of evaluation will be provided within the ITT guidance.

The Authority reserves the right under the Procurement Act 2023 to:

- To cancel the procurement procedure at any stage.
- Not to award a contract as a result of the procurement process.
- Make any modifications during a competitive flexible procedure, provided that the deadline to participate or submit a first or only tender has not passed (section 31(1)(b)).
- Make non substantial modifications, during a competitive flexible procedure, up to the deadline of the final tendering stage (section 31(2)(a)).
- Refine or supplement the award criteria during a competitive flexible procedure (section 24(1)).

If there are any changes to the procedure, this will be set out in the ITT supporting documentation.
