Scope

Description

Activities for parents with their children, to support the development of motor skills in young children and stimulate their children's early brain development and to improve their readiness for school.

Activities should be able to be adapted to be delivered both inside and outside, in a small or large environment, with one or more children so that families can benefit from the session and repeat the activity with their wider family in their own home or local area.

Preference in all areas will be given to those organisations able to clearly demonstrate that their service: -

- is targeting specific and identified need in specific areas within Bromley; and

- is not duplicating statutory provision but is providing additionality.
