Description

The successful delivery of elections relies heavily on the timely and accurate production of essential print materials, including ballot papers, postal vote packs, and poll cards. These materials must comply with UK electoral legislation and be produced to high standards of quality, security, and accessibility. In preparation for upcoming elections, City of Wolverhampton Council are seeking to engage with experienced print suppliers who can demonstrate robust processes for legislative compliance, supply chain resilience, and operational efficiency. This includes the ability to manage market pressures such as rising material costs and evolving postal service requirements, while ensuring secure handling, accurate data integration, value for money delivery, and timely distribution to meet electoral timetables.
