Description

This is not a call for competition

LiveWest is seeking preliminary expressions of interest to participate in a procurement for a comprehensive review of LiveWest's supported housing services. The purpose of this review is to inform the development of a new Supported Housing Strategy for LiveWest. The selected consultant must possess demonstrable expertise in supported housing, strategic planning, funding environments, and relevant regulatory frameworks.

Proposals will subsequently be invited from consultancy partners who can demonstrate :

- A proven track record in developing supported housing strategies and leading service transformation initiatives.
- Extensive knowledge of supported housing operations across diverse client groups, including funding models and regulatory regimes.
- Strong skills in quantitative and qualitative analysis, covering service performance, customer outcomes, financial sustainability, cost control, workforce metrics, recruitment challenges, and asset suitability.

- Demonstrated experience in collaborative working with:
 - o Health and local authority partners (including commissioners and social work teams).
 - o Internal supported housing teams.
 - o Customers and service users.
- The ability to synthesise stakeholder feedback into actionable insights.
- Expertise in strategic planning and organisational development, with the capability to produce a clear, evidence-based report containing strategic recommendations for future service delivery.
