Scope

Description

Citizen are looking to gather information on a potential upcoming procurement exercise for a culture audit.

Our aspiration is to become an employer of choice, that requires us to have the right people with the right skills and behaviours and retain those people. A culture audit would help us to understand the current workplace culture at Citizen and identify areas for improvement and or best practice.

We want to work with someone who has experience of supporting organisations on their culture and people journey across the wider sector, by using tried and tested methodology to determine what action Citizen needs to take to have what is defined as a 'good/desired culture'.

We would like to invite interested parties to email Procurement@citizenhousing.org.uk to be added onto the mailing list for this project, for potential future correspondence.

Please note, this notice is only to serve as a preliminary market exercise to gather information and is not a confirmation of going out to tender.
