Section VI. Complementary information

VI.3) Additional information

The call off contract was awarded via G-Cloud 14 on 03/02/2025. EA have modified the call off by increasing the contract value from. £800,000 to £1,200,000. This modification for additional value meets the conditions of Reg 72(1)(b):. This is for additional services. that have become necessary and were unforeseen when initially procuring the contract.. Besides the time needed to manage a new. procurement, a new supplier would require time to onboard, understand the complex landscape, and build relationships—delaying. progress and potentially leading to missteps or rework. Valuable contextual knowledge and insights gained through prior engagement. would be lost, disrupting the flow of work and undermining the efficiencies already achieved. In a programme of this scale and complexity,. such disruption could significantly impact timelines, stakeholder confidence, and the overall success of the project. . A new procurement. for these services would cause delay, incur further costs and resource implications to manage such a procurement, and there would be a. delay to the overall project which will be of significant inconvenience to EA.. The value of the proposed modification (i.e. £400k) does not. exceed 50% of the original contract value which is £800k..

VI.4) Procedures for review

VI.4.1) Review body

The UK does not have any special review body with responsibility for appeal/mediation procedures in public procurement competitions.

VII.2) Information about modifications

VII.2.1) Description of the modifications

Nature and extent of the modifications (with indication of possible earlier changes to the contract):

To increase the contract by £400,000 bringing new contract value to £1,200,000.00 for additional services

VII.2.2) Reasons for modification

Need for additional works, services or supplies by the original contractor/concessionaire.

Description of the economic or technical reasons and the inconvenience or duplication of cost preventing a change of contractor:

the modification is for additional services that have become necessary and were unforeseen when initially procuring the contract.. Besides the time needed to manage a new procurement, a new supplier would require time to onboard, understand the complex landscape, and build relationships—delaying progress and potentially leading to missteps or rework. Valuable contextual knowledge and insights gained through prior engagement would be lost, disrupting the flow of work and undermining the efficiencies already achieved. In a programme of this scale and complexity, such disruption could significantly impact timelines, stakeholder confidence, and the overall success of the project. . A new procurement for these services would cause delay, incur further costs and resource implications to manage such a procurement, and there would be a delay to the overall project which will be of significant inconvenience to EA..

VII.2.3) Increase in price

Updated total contract value before the modifications (taking into account possible earlier contract modifications, price adaptations and average inflation)
