Scope

Description

Trent & Dove Housing is seeking to engage with qualified and accredited electrical contractors to inform an upcoming procurement for the delivery of domestic electrical rewiring works across its housing stock.

The purpose of this market engagement is to understand current delivery models, capacity, and innovation within the sector to help shape a proportionate and effective procurement approach.

The works will primarily involve the full or partial rewiring of tenanted residential properties, including:

Safe isolation, removal, and replacement of existing electrical installations.

Installation of new wiring, consumer units, sockets, switches, and lighting in compliance with current BS 7671 Wiring Regulations and the Electricity at Work Regulations 1989.

Associated testing, inspection, and certification of installations.

Minor making good following intrusive works (plastering, sealing, and finishes).

Liaison with tenants to minimise disruption and ensure safe working within occupied homes.

The contractor will be expected to demonstrate strong health and safety management in accordance with CDM 2015, hold appropriate accreditations (e.g. NICEIC, ECA, SafeContractor), and ensure all operatives have up-to-date training, DBS checks, and asbestos awareness.

Digital certification and record management are key elements of delivery. Trent & Dove utilises C365 or equivalent compliance software, and suppliers should be capable of generating electronic Electrical Installation Certificates (EICs) and associated documentation.

This procurement forms part of Trent & Dove's wider commitment to maintaining safe, compliant homes, improving resident experience, and delivering value for money through efficient, high-quality works.

Feedback from the market will help shape the final specification, social value priorities, and performance management approach before tender release.
