Upgrade to the rail industry's data warehouse that provides data and insights on ticket sales, revenue, allocation and apportionment from the LENNON system

The implementation of a new and improved data warehouse, provided by Worldline, running congruously with the LENNON system. The new data warehouse will provide significantly improved analytics capability focused on the insights required by users across the rail industry and utilising the latest technologies and data analytics methods to enable processing of increased volumes of data based on near real-life journeys taken by passengers with crucial alignment to the existing Lennon system.
