Description

UKHSA intends to award a contract to TLD Sachets Limited for the provision of sachets for radiation dosimeters (extremity finger stalls and head bands). These are required for the Personal Dosimetry Service based in Chilton. UK Health Security Agency (UKHSA) provides personal dosimetry services (PDS) which measure the amount of radiation exposure received by workers. The service is provided to users of ionising radiation in a variety of sectors, e.g. medical and nuclear, which measures workers' radiation doses by means of dosimeters or "badges".
