Description

Futures Housing Group Ltd are looking to engage in Pre Market Engagement (PME) for utilities brokerage services as per attached documentation on <https://procontract.due-north.com/>.

Pre-market engagement for utilities requirements is an important step in ensuring that the future service provision meets the needs and expectations of both the organisation and internal stakeholders.

This process allows us to gather valuable insights from potential suppliers about innovative approaches, sustainable practices, and cost-effective service models currently available in the market. By engaging early, we can better understand market capabilities, refine our requirements, and build strong partnerships that promote quality, value, and service satisfaction.
