Scope

Description

Evacuation consultancy services

The proposed study is intended to:

Better understand the scenarios that increase level of risk during fire evacuation.

Test the expected occupancy levels against the current evacuation procedures – in total and the distribution about the various spaces.

Provide evidence to support decision-making (now and in the future renewal).

Develop upon and improve current procedures using both qualitative and quantitative approaches

Phase 1: Scoping exercise

Phase 2: Tabletop analysis

If required, Phase 3: Detailed Modelling
