Scottish Water is preparing to launch a renewed Civil Materials Framework to support its capital and operational programmes across Scotland. This framework will ensure national coverage and deliver best market rates for the supply of civil materials.

Initial Term: 4 years (2026–2030)

Extension Options: Up to 4 additional 12-month extensions (potential end date: 2034)

Estimated Annual Spend: £4.375 million

Total Estimated Contract Value: £35 million

The framework will be streamlined from the previous 5-lot model to a revised 4-lot configuration:

Lot 1: Concrete & Mini Mix

Lot 2: Asphalt

Lot 3: Aggregates

Lot 4: Bagged Materials

Each lot will include the most frequently used materials, with provisions for miscellaneous items to be captured via monthly turnover reporting.

Carbon reporting will be a mandatory requirement under this framework. Suppliers will be expected to:

Provide detailed carbon data to support Scottish Water's sustainability and net-zero objectives.

Actively engage with Scottish Water to bring low carbon material options to market. Align with Scottish Water's commitment to the Advanced Market Commitment (AMC), supporting the adoption of low carbon concrete across Scotland.

Suppliers will be invited to tender under the following sourcing model:

Regional Source – Supply divided into North (incl. islands), East, South, and West (incl. islands) regions, with multiple suppliers potentially appointed per region.

A coded grid map of Scotland will be issued with the tender to allow suppliers to price for areas where they have plants or quarries. Market leaders may choose to bid across multiple sourcing options.

This framework is designed to provide a robust, flexible, and cost-effective supply chain for civil materials, enabling Scottish Water to deliver planned and reactive works efficiently across its operational footprint.

Where possible, 365-day material access will be expected, with suppliers offering priority access to Scottish Water during periods of reduced operational capacity (e.g. festive periods or quarry shutdowns).

New Contract Objectives – Drive LCC, Carbon reporting, holiday access, priority opportunities,
