Description

The Event Management Framework (EMF) is being developed by the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) to provide a modern, flexible and accessible route to market for government event requirements. This framework has been designed to reflect how the UK events sector operates and to ensure departments and arm's-length bodies can procure agency-led event services in a consistent and structured way.

This Framework is being procured under the Light Touch Regime, allowing for a more flexible and proportionate approach aligned to the structure of the UK events sector. The framework will operate through mini-competitions, with scope for direct award where appropriate.

Lot 1 - National Public-Facing Events

Covers end-to-end support for large-scale, high-profile national events.

Lot 2 - Medium to Large Indoor Events

Covers planning, design, and delivery of structured indoor events.

Lot 3 - Presence at Third-Party Events

Covers planning and delivery of government involvement within external events.

Lot 4 - Small Events

Covers delivery of small-scale or short-duration events.

Lot 5 - Event Assurance Services

Provides independent specialist expertise and scrutiny.

Our aim is to build a framework that strengthens the UK events industry, supports innovation, and makes it easier for suppliers to join government supply chains.
