Description

CPC is seeking a solution that would deliver a legally robust data sharing licence that project partners would be comfortable in signing, while enabling efficient management of future changes without requiring repeated processes of re-signing. It should include a simple onboarding process for new users or asset owners that avoids extensive re-signing by existing participants and ensure that any additional future data sharing activities are automatically covered under the same licence, eliminating the need for supplementary agreements or repeated approvals. This is for the Climate Resilience Decision Optimiser (CReDO)Project.
