Scope

Description

Natural England and Defra group Commercial are conducting preliminary supply market research for Environmental Delivery Plans (EDPs) that address nutrient pollution under the Nature Restoration Fund (NRF).

This is suppliers' opportunity to begin helping us to develop our requirements and approaches to potential future procurements and evidence that the market is able to supply the goods, services or works required.

We are currently exploring the benefits of developing nutrient EDPs for catchments in England. Where these EDPs go ahead, we will be collecting levy payments from developers to fund conservation measures that address nutrient pollution in the catchments in question.

We are keen to hear from all parts of the nutrient reduction supply chain, such as landowners (including farmers), habitat banks, not-for-profits operating in the nature recovery space, ecological consultancies, and a broader group of contractors and ancillary organisations that could facilitate and deliver nutrient conservation measures.

We also want to hear from potential new entrants to the supply chain.

PRIVACY NOTICE

This privacy notice sets out:

- how we process your personal data when you fill out our survey.
- the rights you have under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

For information you submit via the survey:

- Natural England is the data controller

We collect and process the following personal data:

- your name
- your email address

Purpose:

We collect your personal data as part of the survey response process:

- so that we can contact you regarding your response or related matters
- for statistical data, for example the types of individuals and groups participating

Recipients:

Your personal data may be shared with:

- our processor for the purposes of analysing the consultation responses on our behalf
- other organisations which have a direct interest in the policy on which we are consulting: for example Crown bodies, government departments or Natural England partner organisations. If we plan to share responses with other bodies, we will make that clear on the consultation.

How long we keep your data:

We will only retain your personal data for as long as the project needs, with a maximum period of 7 years.

Your rights:

The data we are collecting is your personal data, and you have considerable say over what happens to it. Natural England respects your personal privacy when responding to access to information requests. We only share information when necessary to meet the statutory requirements of the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

You have the right to:

- object to the processing of your personal data where it is processed for direct marketing purposes
- lodge a complaint with the independent Information Commissioner (ICO) if you think we are not handling your data fairly or in accordance with the law

How to contact us:

The data controller for your personal data is Natural England.

To request any amendments to your response, please contact
