Description

To achieve London's decarbonisation goals and deliver social and economic benefits to residents, London must significantly accelerate private investment into climate measures. To achieve this, we must work closely with private investors to further understand barriers to investment and identify specific and targeted financing mechanisms which can unlock the investment required for London to reach net zero. To deliver on this objective, the Mayor announced plans to launch the London Climate Finance Taskforce at London Climate Action Week 2025. To deliver the Taskforce's programme of work and key outputs, we have sought a partner organisation to deliver Secretariat services and provide technical expertise in support of the Taskforce.
